

WiFi: CLUGuest
Password:
Wisdom@Work

CLAREMONT LINCOLN
UNIVERSITY

Master of Arts
Social Impact

ONLINE MASTER OF ARTS IN SOCIAL IMPACT

BECOME AN INNOVATOR

Are you a Changemaker or Social Entrepreneur that is dedicated to creating positive and sustainable impact within your community?

What about a Social Innovator that is interested in developing creative and realistic solutions to tactical common problems that are plaguing our society?

The M.A. in Social Impact serve to teach, coach, train and equip its students with the skills and confidence needed to affect positive change in their community and social enterprise. Be prepared to develop plan and execute your solution, while also venturing into unexplored territory and advancing your professional network. Be the catalyst for new social endeavors in your community.

The M.A. in Social Impact teaches you to design and execute programs that generate positive and sustainable impact within your community or social venture—and beyond.

If you are a changemaker with a social entrepreneurial spirit, the M.A. in Social Impact can equip you with the skills and confidence needed to affect positive change in your community and organizations, while also helping you to develop the social justice, social entrepreneurship, and human rights perspectives you need to be the catalyst for new social endeavors.

In partnership with Ashoka U Commons

Ranked #3 in the nation by IntelligentHQ

PROGRAM SNAPSHOT

Accreditation

Program Length
12 Months

Program Cost
$18,000

Format
100% Online

No GRE or GMAT Required

*12 month courses; Full-time status (2 courses per term) must be maintained to complete the master's degree in 12 months.

KEY FACULTY:

Dr. Emad Rahim is an award-winning author, educator, entrepreneur, Fulbright Scholar and TEDx Speaker. He serves as the Dean of Social Impact at Claremont Lincoln University and is a Lincoln Scholar Fellow, and volunteers on the Board Directors for Onondaga Community College Scholarship Foundation, CNY Community Foundation and The Good Life Youth Foundation. He is an equity partner of Ztodium, co-founder of Global i365 LLC and formally served as an Entrepreneur-In-Residence at Oklahoma State University.

Dr. Khuram Hussain is the founder of the grassroots organization “Tools for Change,” a nonprofit agency that performs community-wide dialogue circles to confront social problems, support diversity and inclusion, and educate residents of their legal rights in Upstate NY. Dr. Hussain earned his Ph.D. from Syracuse University, two graduate degrees from SUNY Binghamton University and his B.S. degree from SUNY Oswego College. He is the recipient of the Sankofa Excellence Service Award and NAACP Community Impact Honoree.

Dr. Kendra L. Smith serves as the Community Engagement Director and is a Visiting Scholar at Stanford University. She has lectured at Arizona State University and a Grants Coordinator at University of Central Oklahoma. Dr. Smith earned her Ph.D. in Community Resources at Arizona State University, an MPA in Nonprofit Leadership from University of Oklahoma and completed her BA in Political Science at the University of Central Oklahoma. She had multiple publications and has presented her research nationally.

Dr. V. Nita Evans is the founder of Catch Education, a nonprofit organization that works on closing the readiness gap of Black males entering Division 1 football and basketball programs. They provide student-athletes and their families with pre-college preparation, life-skills training and career exploration. She has lectured at Collin College and Bennett College and has served on multiple nonprofit board and committees throughout Dallas Texas. Dr. Evans earned a Ph.D. and M.A. degree in Sociology from SUNY Stony Brook University and completed her graduate studies at SUNY College at Old Westbury.

Christian Baldia is a Kennedy School Fellow, earning a Master’s in Policy from Harvard University and is completing his undergraduate studies at the University of Pittsburg. He serves as the Principal Consultant at Constellation Strategy, lectures at New York University (NYU) and Baruch College, and hold senior-level advisory positions at multiple companies and nonprofit organizations. He was a former White House Analyst and served as a Senior Analyst for the U.S. Department of Treasury, Policy Analyst for Secretary for Domestic Finance and Economic Analyst at the Federal Reserve Bank.